A mass meeting of the freshmen will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Meharry hall where President Osnam will address a word of welcome to the group. Following his address the first year students will receive their assignments to their faculty counselors.

These counselors, twenty-three in number, met Saturday morning for final instructions and to receive their registration supplies. BANDITS GET HUGE AMOUNT AT ST. PAUL

GUNMEN TAKE TWO SMALL SAFES FROM RAILWAY EXPRESS OFFICE

LOOT ESTIMATED AT $100,000

Daring Early Morning Robbery Takes Place At Union Station. Several Shots Fired.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 11, (UP)—Two small safes containing $100,000 in currency and securities were seized by eight gunmen who held up employees of the Railway Express Agency today.

The robbers, who executed their daring theft beneath the concourse of the Union station, escaped. The holdup occurred a few feet from the train that was waiting, with steam up, to take the shipment of valuables to Minneapolis.

The eight bandits sprang from the dim light under the station as the truck containing the shipment drew to a stop. Three of them brandished sawed off shotguns. Two were armed with automatic pistols.

In the truck were T. J. Mangan, St. Paul, a guard, and B. Moles, Minneapolis, the messenger. Both were ordered out of the truck. Mangan coolly surveyed the men and a large parked sedan, until the leader of the gang ordered him and Moles to face a wall.

Two bandits menaced the messenger and guard while the others drove the truck over to the sedan. The safes were transferred in a few seconds.

As the bandits sped out of the concourse basement toward the east they fired several shots into the air.

The money was being shipped from St. Paul banks to institutions in Minneapolis. A portion of the loot was non-negotiable, but it was estimated at least $60,000 was in cash.

CUBANS AGREE ON MARTIN AS NEW LEADER

RAMON GRAU SAN MARTIN INAUGURATED AS PRESIDENT OF ISLAND

SEEKS UNIFIED SUPPORT

Martin Hopes To Complete Cabinet During Day, Bomb Blast Incident Reported.

HAVANA, Sept. 11, (UP)—Hopeful that the danger of armed American intervention had passed, President Ramon Grau San Martin today sought to complete his cabinet and rally political leaders to his support.

There was only one incident to break the calm of the capital. A bomb exploded at 2 a. m. today at Colon and Augila streets, near the gas and electricity station. It was thought possible the bomb was exploded in connection with the public demand for lower utility rates.

The new president, inaugurated at noon yesterday, hoped to persuade leaders of the half dozen political parties that only by backing him in a nationalist government could intervention be averted and normal conditions restored.

Confused as the situation was, the universal opposition of Cubans of all shades of political opinion to intervention was pronounced and was being solidified in anti-American feeling.

From communists to members of the government expressions were unanimous against intervention and any American interference in Cuban affairs.

Largely because of the possibility of intervention, Grau San Martin may win the support of army and navy officers, who since Friday had been unwelcome guests at the National hotel, where American Ambassador Welles resides.

In a proclamation early today the officers accepted in principle a set of unspecified government proposals. They said they were "camped" at the hotel only to consult among themselves and negotiate with the government. Their weapons, they said, were for defense only. They are heavily armed.

JUDGE HUGHES WRITES POOR RELIEF RULING

TOWNSHIPS CANNOT EVADE OBLIGATIONS BECAUSE OF $1.50 LAW

MUST REIMBURSE COUNTY

Action of Former Circuit Court Judge Renders Tax Limitation Law Invalid Is Regards Poor Relief

Townships may not evade their obligations for poor relief because of the $1.50 tax levy limitation act, the Indiana supreme court held in an opinion Saturday.

The opinion, written by Judge James P. Hughes of Greencastle, held the poor relief commissary act of 1932 valid and definitely placed responsibility for the care of the poor with the township.

Judge Hughes' opinion upheld a decision of the Wayne circuit court in an action brought by Clarence M. Brown against Wayne township in that county. Mr. Brown was acting as trustee for creditors of the township who had supplied poor relief provisions. The court held the township may be sued and a judgment obtained by poor relief creditors, and held it is the duty of the county to advance funds to pay the judgment and the duty of the taxing authorities to levy sufficient taxes to retire the bonds issued in payment of the judgment.

The supreme court's action renders the Indiana tax levy limitation act invalid as far as poor relief is concerned.

"The board of tax adjustment," Judge Hughes wrote in his opinion, "not only has the power, but it becomes its imperative duty to fix such tax levies for such municipal corporations as is necessary to meet such poor relief emergency. This duty can not be sidestepped or evaded on the theory that it would raise the levy above the $1 or $1.50 rate. The legislative body purposely made the exception to take care of emergencies that might exist in any municipal corporation."

The action brought by Mr. Brown in the original complaint raised four issues, namely, whether a poor relief claim constitutes a joint liability against the township and the county; whether the poor relief law may be applied to the township or to the county; whether mandamus action would lie to force a levy for poor relief, and the constitutionality of the commissary act.

Regarding the liability for poor relief the court held:

"While it is the duty of the county to advance money to the township, it is a township liability to take care of its poor and not the obligation of the county. Money advanced by the county becomes a loan to the township and the township must reimburse the county."

The court held the county is required only to care for the poor who are maintained in the county infirmary. It held the township may be sued by poor relief creditors and judgment obtained against it.

The court's opinion will be of timely and far-reaching importance, coming as it does when townships are making up their tax rates. It clears a question which has been perplexing in the minds of tax authorities who were undecided as to whether poor relief expenditures must be kept within the $1.50 tax limit and as to the right of the county to issue bonds for the raising of funds to advance townships for poor relief purposes.

The decision of the court also will clear the clouds which have hovered over the marketing of poor relief bonds in Indiana. Since the $1.50 tax limitation law became effective, bond houses have been skeptical of poor relief bonds through fear the tax levy limit might prevent the levy of taxes for the retirement of the bonds. The court's decision gives a precedent on which to base legality of the levy and removes the cloud from the bond issues.

BALLOONIST FOUND

SUDBURY, Ont., Sept. 11, (UP)—A disabled power line which they chopped down in the hopes of bringing aid, effected the rescue of Ward T. Van Ormon and Frank Trotter, it was disclosed today.

Repair line men of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, sent from Sudbury to trace the failed power wires, found the missing Goodyear balloons half starved, and suffering from food poisoning.

On the stump of the telegraph pole they had chopped down was a brief message from Trotter, telling the rescuers "to hurry and rescue us."

James Barrett, linesman for the power commission, found the pair three miles from the severed line, he reported to his office this morning.

Van Ormon and Trotter were uninjured but were suffering from fatigue and hunger. Barrett telephoned Ernest Vernon, district operator, here. Apparently they had contracted ptomaine poisoning from their last meal—a can of beans.

State Policemen Discusses Safety Transportation With School Bus Drivers

According to a report by Paul Boston, superintendent of city schools, a tabulation of the first day enrollment Monday shows that a total of 1,368 boys and girls entered the Greencastle public schools. This represents a decrease of 53 from the first day of last year.

Monday's enrollment for the first six grades was 794, or 42 less than last year for these grades. The Junior-Senior total dropped from 585 to 574. The next few days will no doubt bring a significant increase in the total enrollment. It is expected to approach a figure very close to that of last year. The distribution of students as to sex found the girls in a slight majority of 22, 695 against 673.

Complete enrollment statistics by grade and sex collectively follow:

Roy Newgent, local member of the state police department, was present and took the lead in this part of the discussion. Mr. Newgent gave each driver a copy of the new traffic laws. Every effort will be made to continue the splendid "no accident" record of Greencastle drivers.

DYNAMITE CAP EXPLOSION IS CAUSE OF INJURY

CECIL POINTER OF JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP VICTIM OF BLAST SATURDAY

HIT BY ROCK FRAGMENTS

Boys Found Caps in Old Building. One placed on Boulder and Struck With Another Rock

Cecil Pointer, 13 years old, son of Archie Pointer of Jefferson township, near Belle Union, was severely injured Saturday afternoon when he with some other boys found some bright objects in an old building and one of the objects, which proved to be a dynamite cap, was laid on a rock and hit with another stone. A terrific explosion followed and young Pointer was cut in about 150 places by fragments of rock and other articles. He was weakened by loss of blood.

No bones were broken and although his face was cut in a number of places neither eye was lost. Tetanus anti-toxin was administered. He is expected to recover with some scars on his face as the worst feature.

Accidents of this kind are common, as a large per cent of adults never saw one of the caps and they are of such strength as to cause the loss of eyes or even life. The son of Vernon Plunkett of Stilesville lost one eye and three fingers about four years ago in the same way the Pointer boy was injured.

A son of Orville Nichols of Belle Union was badly cut last year in the same kind of an accident when he placed a cap on a wagon tire and hit it with a hammer.

RUSSELLVILLE STORE ROBBED SUNDAY NIGHT

S. N. BROWN SUFFERS LOSS OF SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS

SHERIFF HAS FINGERPRINTS

Loot Includes Shotgun and Rifle Shells. Car Stolen at Roachdale

Several hundred dollars worth of merchandise was stolen Sunday night by burglars who looted the S. N. Brown hardware store at Russellville. Fingerprints and automobile tire tracks were the only clues which may lead to the identity of the bandits Sheriff Alva Bryan stated Monday following an investigation.

Entrance to the store was gained by prying open a rear door and then breaking the glass from an inside door.

The loot included 4,000 Winchester and Remington shotgun shells, 3,000 Superflex and Remington rifle shells, 12 flashlights, 100 flashlight bulbs, 4 alarm clocks, 10 watches, 8 fountain pens, one aluminum drip percolator, one glass churn, two dozen shears, two dozen pocket knives, three dozen packages safety razor blades, and two electric fans.

Sheriff Bryan said that a car was stolen in Roachdale Sunday night and tire tracks were to be checked to see whether or not they corresponded to the tracks of the car used in the Russellville robbery. Fingerprints also were taken to the state farm by Sheriff Bryan to be checked with department of justice records to see if the identity of the thieves could be learned.

DRY REPEAL ISSUE UP IN FOUR STATES

MAINE VOTES TODAY; THREE OTHERS BALLOT ON TUESDAY

WET FORCES CONFIDENT

Maine, Maryland, Colorado And Minnesota Expected to Join Repeal Column

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 11, (UP)—Maine, dry since 1851, voted today on ratification of the 21st (repeal) amendment. Observers predicted it would be the 26th consecutive state to repudiate national prohibition.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11, (UP)—Size of the wet majority was generally regarded as the only question in doubt as Maryland, one of the pioneer states in the repeal movement prepared to vote on the issue tomorrow.

Observers considered a repeal victory practically certain, although Superintendent Crabbe of the state Anti-Saloon League said that "if Maryland goes wet it will be because the people fail to vote in large numbers." Postmaster General Farley came here to make a luncheon address in behalf of repeal.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 11, (UP)—Colorado dries and repealists closed their campaigns today. Voters ballot on the 21st amendment tomorrow. Prohibitionists conducted a vigorous campaign but on the basis of the overwhelming wet victory in the November, 1932 election when all state liquor laws were repealed, it was predicted the state would enter the repeal column by a large majority.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 11, (UP)—Andrew J. Volstead, author of the nation's prohibition law, campaigned in Minnesota today urging citizens to support the 18th amendment when they vote on the proposed 21st (repeal) amendment. Volstead, whose home is in Granite Falls, Minn., was called by anti-repealists to join in the campaign.

Drys claimed a victory in Minnesota if a heavy vote is polled. Governor Olson, however, a repealist, predicted that Minnesota would stay in line with other states who have balloted for repeal.

A total of 700,000 votes is expected to be cast.

A large number of local relatives and friends were present as well as families from Logansport, Muncie, Indianapolis, Clayton, Columbus and Illinois.

The meeting adjourned to be held again at Stockwell Park the second Sunday in September next year.

NEW CUBAN PRESIDENT

National university professor of medicine, seemed gaining some support, he did not have the adhesion of most of the important political elements. Of the leaders, only Miguel Mariano Gomez, head of the Marianista party, declared for him. The position of the Menocalistas and the National Union was not known. The powerful ABC revolutionary society seemed definitely opposed, largely because it dislikes Sergio Carbo, one of the members of the executive committee that seized power from President Carlos Manuel De Cespedes a week ago today.

Havana thought the change of government a fiesta. Crowds, shooting off firecrackers, moved through the principal streets last night, celebrating the installation of the third government within 30 days.

There was no disorder. Three policemen were the sole guards as 6,000 communists held a demonstration in Central park Sunday and denounced Ambassador Welles for interference.

The new president in his first speech after inauguration declared the revolution had given Cuba new freedom. He spoke at a radio station and his speech was broadcast over the country. It was an appeal for support.

Raccoon Wants Outlet To South

NINE FOOT OPENING UNDER RAILROAD OVERHEAD SOUGHT FOR ROAD

Members of the board of county commissioners were told Saturday by residents of Raccoon that they wanted an outlet to the south out of that village, rather than a road west to the new route of state road 43.

Commissioners and County Engineer Arthur Plummer went to Raccoon to look over the situation at the north Putnam county town following complaints that the B. & O. railroad had closed the opening under the railroad on the old route of state road 43, completely blocking all outlet to the south.

As a result of the conference the commissioners have written the railroad for permission to construct a roadway under the railroad through a nine-foot opening between a small stream on the west side of the roadway and the original road. This will make a sharp jog in the road but will give the town the desired opening to the south over the old route. Expense also will be considerably less than building a new road west from Raccoon.

It is believed, however, that the railroad will refuse permission for construction of a new roadway through the nine-foot opening inasmuch as they drove piling and blocked the old road with permission of the public service commission following completion of the new route of road 43. Any attempt to build a road over the railroad is also expected to be opposed.

The commissioners Saturday let the contract for furnishing sanitary supplies to county institutions to E. L. McCabe & Sons of Terre Haute. Contract for purchase of a road grader was withheld for the time being by the commissioners.

ADMITS ROBBERIES

BRAZIL, Ind., Sept. 11, (UP)—Ralph Chilcoat, 50, Dublin, Ind., has confessed leading his three sons on hitch-hiking trips through four states to rob motorists, police said today.

The trips were across Indiana, into Ohio, Illinois and Missouri Chilcoat is said to have admitted. The four were said to have looted parked cars in addition to holding up drivers who gave them rides.

Some of the loot was sold and the remainder taken to the family home in Dublin. Two suit cases filled with fountain pens, knives, flashlights, jewelry, pipes and similar articles are being held by police, who will attempt to locate the owners.

Authorities have decided to arraign Chilcoat in Clay circuit court on charges of possessing stolen property. They have not decided what to do with the sons, William, 14, Walker, 9, and Elmer, 8.

MOVIES

AT THE GRANADA

Lee Tracy is starred in one of the fastest moving pictures of his career in "Turn Back the Clock," which opens at the Granada theater Tuesday. The new film drama, based on an original story by Edgar Selwyn and Ben Hecht, is an extraordinary yarn of a man who is allowed to relive his life through stirring events of the past decade. Tracy plays the owner of a small cigar store in New York, married and barely able to make both ends meet. Sometimes he wonders how different life would have been had he married a wealthy girl from his home-town. By an ingenious twist in the tale, he is given an opportunity to relive his life and things turn out far differently than he had anticipated. Mae Clarke plays Tracy's wife, and the cast also includes Otto Kruger, George Barbier and Peggy Shannon.

5-1. Reelsville scored six runs in the third with Waxler and Brann getting two doubles with the bases full. Outstanding hitters for Reelsville were Poe and Harper and for Putnamville, Scobee and Carrington. Batteries were, Reelsville, Waldon and Poe. Putnamville, Taylor, Scobee and C. Williams.

LOCALS WIN, 15 TO 6

The Greencastle Merchants pounded out a 15 to 6 victory over the Indianapolis Cubs at Lucas park Sunday afternoon. Lawrence twirled for the locals with Crawley on the receiving end. Hitting of the Greencastle batsmen featured the contest. Next Sunday the strong Cloverdale Grays will form the opposition for the Merchants at the Lucas diamond. Due to the rivalry between the two clubs a record breaking crowd is expected.

CHAPEL CEMETERY CO. WOULD CONDEMN LAND

Chapel Cemetery Company has filed a petition in circuit court against Dessie O'Hair Thomas, Myrtle O'Hair Allen and Neal Allen, to condemn a small parcel of land lying between Brick Chapel cemetery and the new route of state road 43. The petitioners allege the additional land is needed for the cemetery.

According to the petition the cemetery officials have been unable to reach an agreement with the land owners relative to a purchase price for the land. They ask that the court name three disinterested freeholders to fix its value.

Oppose U. S. Intervention in Cuba

While the United States is doing all in its power to avoid armed intervention in Cuba, Ambassador Sumner Welles, in Havana, is trying to clarify the aims and objects of the Revolutionary Junta of five which took the reins of government from the hands of Provisional President De Cespedes. Although the fear is expressed in certain Washington quarters that the new Junta is Communist, at least two of its members are known to be conservative. They are Sergio Carbo, prominent Havana editor, and Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, well-known physician. Those members of the Junta have pledged themselves to restore order in Cuba and to organize with a definite program pending a general election.

SYNOPSIS

Pretty Mary Kennedy breaks her engagement to the elderly but wealthy sports promoter, Buck Landers when she falls in love with Maynard, Steve Moore. Landers kidnaps Steve and threatens to harm him unless Mary marries Landers. Mary flirts with Landers' butler, Bat, to gain his confidence. She learns of Steve's whereabouts and goes there alone. In a big flat, Mary is confronted by two thugs who deny all knowledge of Steve. They hold her and phone Landers. Landers arrives and orders his men out. When Landers refuses to leave, Mary shoots at him, misses. He flees. Steve comes to Mary that he is engaged, she loves her. Mary has misgivings when Steve plans a visit to her father, his fiancée, to explain the situation. Steve writes that he has not had an opportunity to speak with Eileen. Mary replies, bringing out her heart to him. Bill Calvert, Eileen's brother, calls on Mary. Mary realizes his motive is to prevent her marriage.

CHAPTER XXXV.

"If Steve's love and yours is true and lasting, nothing on earth will ever keep you apart," Bill Calvert told her.

I call it, Mr. Calvert—I call it crooked!"

Beneath his tan, Bill Calvert grew pale. Then a flash burned in his cheeks. He lifted one hand—and dropped it.

"I never meant to frame a rotten deal on you. I only wanted to do something to give Eileen a fair chance."

"A fair chance!" Mary's voice rang with a little wildness. "If you want to give Steve a fair chance to compare us—let her come down here and live like I do. Let her work all day in an office, and pay for her own clothes and board and room on twenty-five or thirty dollars a week. Let her skip and save and starve so she can buy a new hat! Yes, and let her quit a dozen jobs because the boss gets fresh. Let her get up and go to work every day, whether she's sick or well. Let her be jammed around on the subway, and pay for her cheap winter coat on the installment plan. Give her four or five years of that, and see how sweet and delicate and refined she'll be. Put her through the same mill I've been through, and you can bet your life I won't be afraid to meet her on even terms, any day in the week!"

The passion in Mary's voice shook her to the core of her being. She was trembling all over, breathing with difficulty. Suddenly—she had no power to control her feelings longer—she jerked away from Bill Calvert and sped in the opposite direction . . . back toward the poor refuge of her sister's crowded flat . . .

Mary's flight home was a rout, a panic of her emotions. She could brave any danger—could endure any sufferings—but there was a new kind of pain stabbing her with a thousand daggers . . .

Was Steve's love beginning to fade. She hurried on through the dark on her ground—surrounded by her own family! Bring the shabby, little Brooklyn girl up to a big mansion, and let Steve see how much cooler and sweeter Eileen would look. Oh, yes, her fine clothes and her easy familiarity with everything that money buys, would make me look pretty cheap and crushed. She knows I'm not used to chauffeurs and butlers and beautiful things—I'd be like a fish out of water. Oh, she'd look superior all right and I wouldn't have a chance on earth. If I'd had money and cars and training lavished on me, I'd have a gloss, too—but I haven't. And you call that fairness! Do you know what lonesome streets; dark shadows, suddenly, appeared under her eyes, but the fast beating of her heart brought a strange brightness to the eyes themselves. Even now some fundamental instinct of pride asserted itself, and her gold head was erect, her step valiant, that no chance passerby might suspect the wolves that were tearing at her heart. . . .

She couldn't believe that Steve had deliberately put this blow upon her. But why had he allowed Bill Calvert to come upon such an errand? She had always thought Steve was so strong—had he turned weakling? Was his love so fragile that it bent to every passing fancy? Had Eileen's tears so moved him that he was beginning to regret his little love excursion in New York? Had the Calvert family appealed to his chivalry, his sense of honor? Ah, but it was hard to believe anything against Steve! Her love defended him; he hated to hurt people; merely, he had wanted to make the break with Eileen as painless as possible. He was sentimental, loyal, chivalrous. Being a mere man, how could he have foreseen that Bill Calvert's proposition would have hurt her? How could he understand that a suggested comparison of her with Eileen would burn her every woman's instinct with shame and resentment?

Steve was dumb!

Yes, he was dumb about women—but he was dear, he was lovable . . . he was the vital essence of her whole life. She wanted to be alone now, to hide herself like a wounded little animal. Oh, she wanted time to think, privacy to tend her hurt. Now, tonight, if she went up to the flat, the family would be all over her, she was afraid the sound of their voices might send her into wild weeping of hysteria. The strain of the last two weeks had been tremendous, her nerves were frayed. She wanted to be alone . . . alone . . .

But where, in the great city, is there privacy for the poor? She sat down on the stoop of the apartment house and leaned sideways against the iron railing. It was as good a place as any. The memory of Steve's humorous smile, the magic of his embrace and kisses, his joking way of speech, flooded over her and tears ran down her hot cheeks. Bravely she dabbed them away with her handkerchief and dried her eyes. Maybe she would have a whole lifetime in which to weep . . .

A Frank Statement to the Shopping Public of Putnam County About the Indiana

GROSS INCOME TAX

Since May 1st, 1933, you have been knowingly or unknowingly (as the case may be), paying a tax of 1% levied by the State of Indiana on Gross Income which includes receipts from sale of all tangible property.

There are two methods by which merchants may reimburse themselves for this tax:

METHOD NO. 1—By raising retail prices sufficiently to cover it.

METHOD NO. 2—By adding the tax to your sales slip and collecting it as a separate item.

Which method to adopt in collecting this tax (which up until now has been concealed in the retail price of merchandise) is a problem which has confronted all merchants.

We feel that in all fairness to the shopping public, this tax should be brought out into the open!

Method No. 1 does NOT bring this tax into the open!

J. C. PENNEY CO.

Greencastle, Indiana

It does not permit you to know whether you are paying the exact 1% tax—or MORE! You may be paying excess tax on your purchase to make up for a purchase on which your neighbor has paid no tax! Moreover, concealing the tax is not avoiding it! It must be paid! Let's not fool ourselves!

Method No. 2 DOES bring the tax out into the open!

The sales tax is added on your sales slip—marked in plain figures! It prevents excess collection. It is your assurance that you are paying the required 1%—no more!

THEREFORE, because we believe that Method No. 2 is the fairer and more satisfactory to both the consumer and ourselves, beginning Wednesday, September 13th, we will adopt this method of adding the following amounts in plain figures at the bottom of your sales slip, to reimburse ourselves for this tax.

Tax Expense Schedule of Rates

On purchases from	8.50 to $1.50 . . . 1c
On purchases from	1.50 to 2.50 . . . 2c
On purchases from	2.50 to 3.50 . . . 3c
On purchases from	3.50 to 4.50 . . . 4c

CHICAGOANS LACK INTEREST IN CENTURY OF PROGRESS

CHICAGO, (UP)—Persons outside Chicago are more interested and excited about Chicago's 100th birthday than Chicago itself, Century of Progress officials believe.

"Most Chicagoans with whom I have talked," said Major Lennox R. Lohr, general manager of the exposition, "are greatly impressed by it—but they always say to me: 'This is a great show of yours.' They never say 'This is a great show of ours.'"

"The reason for this attitude, as I see it, is that they feel that they were not sufficiently confident regarding the ultimate success of the fair."

"Now, that its success is assured, they are prevented by conscience from talking of it as their show, which it really is."

Ladoga Youth Fatally Hurt

DONALD GRIGGS STRUCK WHILE RIDING ON BICYCLE NEAR ROACHDALE

Donald Griggs, 16 year old Ladoga high school student, was injured fatally Sunday morning at 12:30 o'clock when a automobile struck him while he was riding a bicycle in the Ladoga-Roachdale road about a half-mile south of Ladoga.

The car which struck Griggs was operated by Wayne E. Miller, 19, of Ladoga. Ruby Bymaster, another Ladoga youth, was riding in the car with Miller.

Griggs was headed north at the time of the accident and is believed to have been blinded by the headlights of the car, which was going south.

Dr. M. E. Gross was summoned to administer first aid to the youth. He ordered him rushed to the Culver hospital at Crawfordsville in the Gottschall ambulance. He died while being taken upstairs on the Culver hospital elevator. It was said that a fractured rib punctured a lung, causing death.

Sheriff Verner Bowers and Coroner A. L. Loop of Montgomery county conducted an investigation of the accident.

It is believed young Griggs had been visiting friends in Roachdale and was returning home at the time of the accident.

The young man was born at Brownsburg, November 25, 1916, the son of David and Mertie Craver Griggs. He was a member of the Nazarene church and in his junior year at Ladoga high school. He was well liked by his classmates and had many friends.

Surviving, in addition to the parents, are eight brothers, Clifford, of Ladoga; Leon and James, of Danville, and Gerald, Herbert, Wilbur, Virgil and Harry at home; one sister, Helen, at home and two grandmothers, Mrs. Rhoda Griggs, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Morton Barlow, of Brownsburg.

Funeral services will be held at the Ladoga Nazarene church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Robinson Essel Cooper. Burial will be in the Ladoga cemetery.
